DEATHS AND FUNERALS

LOUIS CHRISTENSEN.

The funeral of Louis Christensen an inmate of the Industrial school was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Larkins' funeral chapel, with High Counselor E. A. Larkin presiding.

A musical programme was rendered by Ralph Abbott, and Orson Griffen soloists, and selections by the members of the Utah Industrial school.

The speakers were Volney C. Gunnell, Dr. E. G. Gowan.
The services were well attended and the floral offerings were large. A large broken wheel from the pupils and teachers of the Industrial school was a beautiful piece, representing the comradeship and love in which the departed was held.

The male inmates of the school attended the services in a body and led the funeral cortege to the Ogden City cemetery, where the interment was made.

Enroute to the burial place, three buglers played the military dirge, and at the grave, the military salute was fired and "taps" sounded.

LORENZO FISHER.

Lorenzo Fisher, aged 55, died at 9 a. m. yesterday at his residence at Farr West, of pneumonia, after about ten days illness.

Mr. Fisher was born in England and emigrated in 1861 to America and has made his home in Farr West since. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Robert Ward and Lorenzo Roy, and one daughter, Viola May Fisher.

FARMER CAN TEST HIS COWS

Dr. T. B. Beatty, secretary of the state board of health, has just issued a bulletin urging all farmers to avail themselves of the tuberculin test for their cows, which will be furnished free by the board. The bulletin is to be printed in circular form and will be freely distributed at the state fair during the week, where it will convey information where it is most needed. Dr. Beatty holds that the test is necessary in the interests of public health, and some suggestions are made in the circular relative to needed legislation.

The bulletin in full follows: Tuberculosis is a contagious disease, caused by a specific germ known as the tubercle bacillus. The germs may gain entrance to the body of the animal by way of the nostrils or stomach, after having been expelled in the saliva, nasal discharges, or excrement, etc., of another animal affected with the disease.

The forage, litter and drinking water become contaminated by the discharges and through them the infection is conveyed. Healthy animals "nosing" with those that are infected or feeding and drinking after them are liable to contract the disease.

One tuberculous cow may infect an entire herd.

Calves which are permitted to suck tuberculous dams, and swine fed upon the milk, are often infected.

Most important of all, human beings who consume the milk or butter from a tuberculous cow are directly endangered.

Tuberculosis in cattle may be entirely eradicated by the discovery and slaughter of all infected animals.

Test is Harmless.

This is made possible by the tuberculin test, which is entirely harmless and practically infallible.

It is impossible to detect the presence of the disease by any other means except when it has reached an advanced stage.

The animal may be fat and seem entirely healthy and yet be infected.

If infection is present, however slight, it may be surely determined by applying the tuberculin test.

If the animal reacts, postmortem examination will always confirm the existence of tuberculosis in some part of the animal's body.

The disease advances slowly, but surely, and during its entire progress the animal is a direct source of danger to the other animals and human beings. Hence the importance of the early discovery of the disease by the use of the tuberculin test.

Utah has taken a leading position in the warfare against tuberculosis in cattle by the enactment in 1909 of the following law:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person to import or bring into this state any cattle for dairy or breeding purposes except when such cattle are accompanied by a certificate from an inspector certifying that they have been examined and subjected to the tuberculin test and are free from tuberculosis, or any contagious disease; provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply to what is known as range cattle.

Sec. 2. Every person who sells milk to a dairy and every person engaged in the dairy business in this state shall at least once every calendar year cause every cow milked by him to be examined and subjected to the tuberculin test.

In accordance with this law the work was inaugurated by the state board of health with the co-operation of the United States bureau of animal industry. At this date more than seventy-five hundred (7500) cattle have been tested, of which four and one-half (4 1/2) per cent reacted; or, in other words, more than 300 (300) per cent of dairy animals tested.

This is an extraordinarily low percentage compared with the results of the test in eastern states, which average more than twenty-five (25) per cent, in many instances reaching fifty (50) per cent of dairy animals tested.

Begin Work Early.

The advantage of having begun the work of eradication in Utah in advance of the more extensive disinfection of the disease that was otherwise inevitable, is obvious. Dairy men and cattle owners are urged to co-operate and lend all the assistance in their power in this important work.

Economic considerations and regard for the public health demand that there shall be no relaxation in the effort to completely eradicate the disease from the state and to prevent its future importation from other states.

The law should be broadened in its scope to include all cattle in the state used for milking purposes; and it is hoped that the next legislature may provide for this and also for partial indemnity for losses sustained through the condemnation of diseased animals.

In order to avoid the infliction of unnecessary hardship on the owners of reacting animals, the sale of meat from those in which the disease is found, upon careful inspection after slaughter, to be slight and confined to the glands, is permitted.

This is in accordance with the meat inspection regulations of the United States bureau of animal industry, based upon the fact that such meat is in no way dangerous to the public health.

An effort will be made by the state board of health to provide free tuberculin testing of all cows suspected of being affected with tuberculosis on application to the board of health by the owners.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Good

Bargains in Small Tracts of Orchard and Garden Lands NEAR OGDEN CITY

We are authorized to offer at private sale, any or all of a tract of 200 acres located within two miles of the 24th Street viaduct, within two miles of two canning factories, and within two and one-quarter miles of the sugar factory.

The Northeast corner of this tract is crossed by the O. S. L. and D. & R. G. Railroads. The former has a sidetrack on this land where freight cars can be loaded or unloaded.

The Bamberger Electric Road from Ogden to Salt Lake has a station within 3.4 of a mile of this land, 15 minutes walk, where cars stop at intervals of 1 1/2 hours. This service begins at 6-10 a. m. and continues until midnight. Fare into town, 15 cents.

THE SANDRIDGE

Has been demonstrated as one of the most successful fruit belts in the state. It is being covered from one end to the other with fine vineyards and orchards of peach, pear, cherry and apple trees. Small fruits of every kind are successfully grown. The land not planted to fruit is growing crops of alfalfa, grain and vegetables.

Between the rows of young fruit trees enough potatoes, tomatoes and beets are in many cases being harvested this year to more than cover the first cost of the land.

Because of the location and character of the soil, the season free from killing frosts is two weeks earlier in the spring and two weeks later in the fall.

You can take your choice of soils, including a sandy loam, a fine gravelly soil with north and west slope, or a deep black soil that WILL GROW ANYTHING, with or without water, from fruit trees to any kind of vegetable you can mention. There is no alkali in this soil and never will be.

You can buy five, ten or more acres, facing on a road, and can take your choice of the unsold tracts at ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS PER ACRE. The terms provide that you pay down ten per cent of the purchase price and at once take possession of the land. The balance you pay in NINE EQUAL SEMI-ANNUAL PAYMENTS, with 8 per cent interest. The present owner pays this year's taxes.

If you desire at any time to pay cash in advance of the time when due you will be allowed a discount equal to 8 per cent interest.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE

To have a share in the future growth of the orchard and fruit industry of Weber county. You can live on this land and work in Ogden, or you can have your home in the city and made daily trips to your land.

This whole tract lies under the Davis & Weber Counties Canal, by far the finest and most satisfactory water supply in the state and is surrounded on all sides by fields and orchards watered from that canal. Better see us and have us reserve one of these tracts for you.

MERCHANTS ANNUAL MEETING

Convention of State Association Will Be Held in Salt Lake October 5-6.

The sixth annual convention of the Utah Retail Merchants' association will be held in Salt Lake City Wednesday and Thursday, October 5 and 6. The merchants are to have not only a business convocation, but a session will be devoted to conviviality. It is expected that merchants from all parts of the state will be present, and a thorough discussion of the business situation will be given.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning F. H. Weight, president of the Salt Lake association, will deliver the address of welcome, and the response will be made by J. M. Bishop, president of the Ogden association. J. S. Carver of Ogden, state president, will then deliver an address, after which reports from the various officers will be heard and committee appointed.

At the afternoon session reports from secretaries of local associations throughout the state will be read, and a paper on the subject, "Is Co-operative Buying in Large Deals Profitable and Desirable?" will be read and discussed by S. W. Price for the affirmative and J. W. Wilcox for the negative. At Wednesday's evening session, the following papers will be read and discussed: "Why Should Free Deals Be Abolished?" "The Value of the National Association." "Why the Manufacturer Should Protect the Retailer in His Profits." "What Benefits, If Any, Are Seen by the Wholesaler and Manufacturer in a Retailers' Organization." "The Right Way to Figure Profits." "Regulation of Credits From the Viewpoint of the Wholesaler."

At 10:30 a. m. Thursday the convention will reconvene. The first paper will be "The Mail Order Menace: How Best to Cope With It." This will be followed by the following papers: "The Incompetent Creditor." "How Best to Cooperate to Discourage the Sale of Highly Advertised Staples Which Do Not Carry Profit Enough to Pay Cost of Doing Business." "Is the Pacific Coast Plan the Remedy?" "The Credit System, and How It Can Be Improved." "Home Manufactured Goods." These will be followed by the election of officers and the selection of the place for the 1911 convention.

On Thursday night there will be an elaborate banquet to the delegates and their friends.

WESTERN PACIFIC ADDS ANOTHER THROUGH SLEEPER

Salt Lake, Oct. 4.—To accommodate Salt Lake and Utah passengers exclusively, the Western Pacific has added to its train a Salt Lake-San Francisco sleeper. This sleeper will be open for passengers each night at 9 o'clock, and those desiring to retire early can do so, the train moving out of the station at 11:30 p. m. In case of Rio Grande No. 3 being late, this will not cause any late vigils on the part of the passengers boarding the train here, for they can go to sleep and have a good night's rest, no matter what time the train leaves. If such delays occur, the Western Pacific can take up the delay over the speedway across the desert and arrive in San Francisco on time.

PRODUCTS OF BIG DAIRIES BARRED

City Food Commissioner Notifies Milkmen They Must Clean Up Premises.

Salt Lake, Oct. 4.—Following his discovery of numerous cases of typhoid fever in the families of milkmen at Fairview and Indianola, with revolting unsanitary conditions existing in both places, City Food Commissioner Walter J. Frazer Monday notified the three dairy plants at Fairview and Indianola that their output will be barred from Salt Lake City until the alarming filthy conditions are abated. Notices to this effect were sent to the Fairview Creamery company, the Jensen skimming station and the Fairview Miner Bros. creamery, all of Fairview. Copies of the Salt Lake milk ordinance were enclosed with the notices. Each notice read as follows: "While in your vicinity lately I was unable to score any of the places supplying your plant with milk. There was only one dairy which could be called sanitary in any particular, the Stevens at Milburn. As 50 points must be obtained before this office could issue your producers a permit, so as to enable your creamery to sell milk or milk food products on this market, and especially since you are receiving milk and cream from dairymen having contagious diseases in their families, after this date the butter and cream from your creamery will be excluded from this market, so govern yourself accordingly."

Before you will be allowed to resume shipments of butter or cream to Salt Lake City, the following conditions must be complied with by each of your producers so offending: A thorough cleaning of all corrals, yards and stables, a thorough cleaning of all outside buildings and a plentiful supply of lime or other disinfectant must be freely applied and often. All milk cans, milking utensils, pails, strainers and the like that are cleaned with water from the surface wells, especially in Fairview, must be washed with boiling water, thoroughly sterilized before using and placed on sanitary racks, where the sun and fresh air can strike them, especially the cloth strainers. In all cases where there exists typhoid fever in a dairyman's family the cows should be taken to a neighbor's yard and milked there.

By complying with these orders, shipments may be resumed and a reasonable time given each of your producers to build or fix stables for the cows and get their milk houses in ment water troughs to keep the milk in a cool vat of water until taken therefrom by the collector.

NEGRO WOMAN ROBS AND STABS CAPTOR

Perry Clark Seizes Nigger When He Misses Wallet from His Pocket.

Salt Lake, Oct. 4.—Accosted by three negro women on Second West street, just below Third South street, at 8 o'clock Monday night, Perry Clark was badly cut about both hands in resisting the attempts of the black women to rob him. Clark seized a woman, after she had taken his purse and handed it to one of the other female holdups. He held her until the police came. The negroes who had received the wallet, evidently fearing capture, slipped the money back into Clark's pocket.

G. L. Wilding, 323 West Fourth South street, who was with Clark at the time, grappled with one of the other negroes, but she got away. The woman who cut Clark gave her name as Jessie Gibson. Shortly after she was locked up, Clark notified police headquarters that the other negroes were again in the vicinity. The patrol hurried out and Bessie
